During the current academic year, coaching minor students demonstrate an understanding of age-appropriate instruction. Coaching minor students will develop effective organizational, motivational and teaching strategies to successful programs. During the current academic year, coaching minor students demonstrate an understanding of assessment.