Minors in European Studies demonstrate an understanding of societal issues in Europe. Graduating European Studies minors identify, describe, and analyze one European historical, political, cultural, economic, or contemporary issue they have learned in the courses in the European Studies minor. European Studies students identify and analyze aspects of European history.