Students in Middle Eastern and Islamic World Studies gain appropriate language proficiency in languages other than English (Arabic or Hebrew).

Students in MEIW studies will be able to identify, describe and analyze at least one contemporary or historical political or cultural issue they regard as defining the region, and how that issue links different parts of the region, and how it enhanced their major/minor.

Students in MEIW studies will describe and discuss aspect(s) and issues of Middle Eastern/Islamic World culture(s), history, and religion(s).

Students in Middle Eastern and Islamic World Studies gain appropriate language proficiency in languages other than English (Arabic or Hebrew).